TURKEY AND PORTUGAL JOIN BIG THREE IN BACKING THE CANAL USERS' ORGANIZATION

London (AP)—The Western Big Three proposal for a canal users' association gained new support today in the 18-nation Suez conference and delegates pointed toward finishing their work by this weekend.

Turkey and Portugal joined nine other nations in backing the plan outlined by U. S. Secretary of State Dulles for the association to work in cooperation with Egypt until the Suez crisis is permanently solved. Ethiopia and Spain gave qualified support, but did not commit themselves to joining the association.

Credits Eased On Financing Of Housings

Washington (AP)—The government's home financing agencies took steps today to lower down payments and ease credit for construction of housing.

Four specific actions were announced by the White House. They are designed mainly to stimulate the low-cost housing field. This is what was done:

1. The Federal Housing Administration cut from 7 to 5 per cent the minimum down payment on homes appraised at $9,000 or less. On a $9,000 house this would lower the down payment by $180.
2. The Federal Home Loan Bank Board boosted from 10 to 12½ per cent of their share capital the limitation on borrowing of member institutions. This was aimed at improving the capacity of savings and loan and other home financing institutions to meet the demand for mortgage loans.
3. The Federal National Mortgage Association (FNMA), in effect, raised the price it will pay for mortgages by 1 per cent, in an (Turn to Page Eight)

Clark Not Anxious To Commit Himself On the "Shortway"

Bedford (AP)—Joseph S. Clark, Democrat seeking to unseat Republican Sen. James H. Duff, says he "does not intend to get embroiled" in a controversy over the proposed construction of a highway between Sharon and Stroudsburg.

Clark told a news conference last night that the proposed "key-stone shortway" which would replace U. S. 6 on the federal interstate highway system "is a local and state level matter."

The shortway plan has the backing of Gov. Leader and the State Highways Department. It is hotly opposed by many communities and private groups and individuals, especially in the state's northern tier counties.

The former Philadelphia mayor, pressed for comment on the shortway, said he did not intend to get involved in "red herring issues."

Clark made a luncheon speech yesterday in Windber, followed by a five minute television appearance in Johnstown and attended a dinner here sponsored by the Bedford County Democratic organization.

Farewell to Popular Pastor And Family Largely Attended

More than 300 persons gathered in St. Paul's Lutheran church last evening for the farewell function honoring Pastor Nore G. Gustafson, his wife, and their daughter, Miss Elsa, leaving soon for a new pastorate in Florida.

Presiding for the program in the church proper was the Rev. Axel Beckman, Jamestown, who will serve as vice pastor of the parish until a minister has been secured, with Richard Osterman in the role of emcee and welcoming members and guests.

The opening prelude was played by Mrs. Albert Anderson, organ, and Mrs. Russell Thelin, piano; followed by a hymn, "Faith of Our Fathers"; scripture and prayer by Pastor Beckman; anthems, "Beautiful Saviour," with solo by Thomas Nzman, and "Softly and Tenderly," sung by the junior choir.

President Assures Nation in Radio-TV Talk He Is Fit To Carry on Four More Years

Washington (AP)—President Eisenhower told American voters last night he feels physically fit to carry on for four more years what he called a vigorous quest for real peace.

In his first nationwide radio-television bid for re-election, he said he wants a military strong and vigilant, but patient and comprehending, America to lead the world to peace.

Several times he took issue with his Democratic opponent, Adlai E. Stevenson, without mentioning his name. And he accepted at the start the health challenge the Democrats have raised because of his abdominal operation last June and his heart attack nearly a year ago.

Keying his speech to the word "peace," he said he had achieved a personal kind of peace—"granted to me by the mercy of the Almighty"—that gives him confidence he can carry on the duties of the presidency.

"It is this firm conviction: I am confident of my own physical strength to meet all the responsibilities of the presidency, today and in the years just ahead," he said. "If I were not so convinced, I would never have accepted re-nomination to this office."

"I hope this conviction — this peace of mind — may bring assurance to many others as I stand ready to serve as your president for another four years, if this be your will."

Eisenhower's presentation of his case on a single network, CBS, was in contrast to Stevenson's four-network campaign opener from Harrisburg, Pa., last week.

The GOP National Committee chose to leave three networks open for those who might wish to watch or hear other things.

Speaking from a text which had been underlined at points of emphasis, Eisenhower finished five minutes before the end of the half hour for which the Republican National Committee paid about $79,000.

Since the full 30 minutes had been contracted for, the GOP paid out an estimated $12,000 for time which Eisenhower did not use. The network filled in with a news broadcast.

Having finished this first of the half-dozen television addresses which he says will make up the bulk of his campaign, Eisenhower takes off today for two off-the-cuff farm speeches in Iowa tomorrow.

It is his first campaign trip, except for a journey to speak to GOP workers at his farm near Gettysburg, Pa.

Eisenhower in his broadcast struck out at three proposals Stevenson has made. He said they represented "some ways not to meet" the world's pressing problems.

In a telephone call to his mother yesterday afternoon, Jack Pedersen, above, reported that he had passed his physical test with an A, and his aptitude test with 99 out of 100, and he is now a qualified member of the United States Navy. Jack, or "Pete," as he was called by everyone, displayed his versatility by working in three departments on the "Times-Mirror," first in the millinery room, later in the press room, and in between, giving an extra fillip to the sports pages by his school stories on basketball and football. He graduated from Warren High School with last year's class. Leaving Buffalo at 2:30 yesterday afternoon, he will take boot training in Bainbridge, Md., coming home to spend two weeks with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Garney Pedersen of Madison avenue, after a period of ten weeks. GOP Truth Squads To Be Discussed by Stevenson Tonight

By MARVIN L. ARROWSMITH
Washington (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson returns to the campaign rostrum tonight to make "a few well-chosen remarks about the Republican truth squads."

The Democratic presidential nominee's press secretary Clayton Fritchey put it that way in discussing a speech Stevenson will make before a party rally at suburban Silver Spring, Md.

The GOP National Committee has organized what it calls "truth squads" of GOP speakers to trail Stevenson and other Democratic campaigners. Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall has said the squads will correct what he termed "distortion."

In a campaign talk Tuesday President Eisenhower, Stevenson's opponent, advised Republicans engaged in the campaign:

"Tell the truth. Tell it forcefully." (Turn to Page Eight)

ACCIDENTAL SHOOTING
Bedford (AP)—The Rev. Louis M. King, 51, of nearby Cessna, fatally shot himself with a .22 caliber rifle yesterday while gunning for a squirrel in his back yard. A verdict of accidental shooting was issued by Dr. J. H. Kinsley, Bedford County coroner. The minister was pastor of Dunning's Creek Church of the Evangelical and Reformed Church since 1950.

FLOOD AID COMING
Washington (AP)—Sections of Western Pennsylvania stricken by floods last may will be aided by $100,000 in federal assistance.

President Eisenhower yesterday notified Gov. Leader that the money was available. Sections around the Ohio River were declared a disaster area shortly after the floods.

TURNPIKE EXTENSION
Harrisburg (AP)—The Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission held high hopes today that within a week it will know exactly what additional portion of the North-eastern extension of the toll road can be opened this year. Chairman G. Franklin McSorley said yesterday he hoped the decision could be made at the commission's meeting next week based on a progress report to be submitted.

'Safe Driver' Is Killed In Crossing Accident
Alliquippa (AP)—A truck rammed into the center of a three-car Pittsburgh & Lake Erie Railroad train today at a grade crossing in nearby Fallston, killing Norman O. Wams, 37, of Toledo, Ohio.

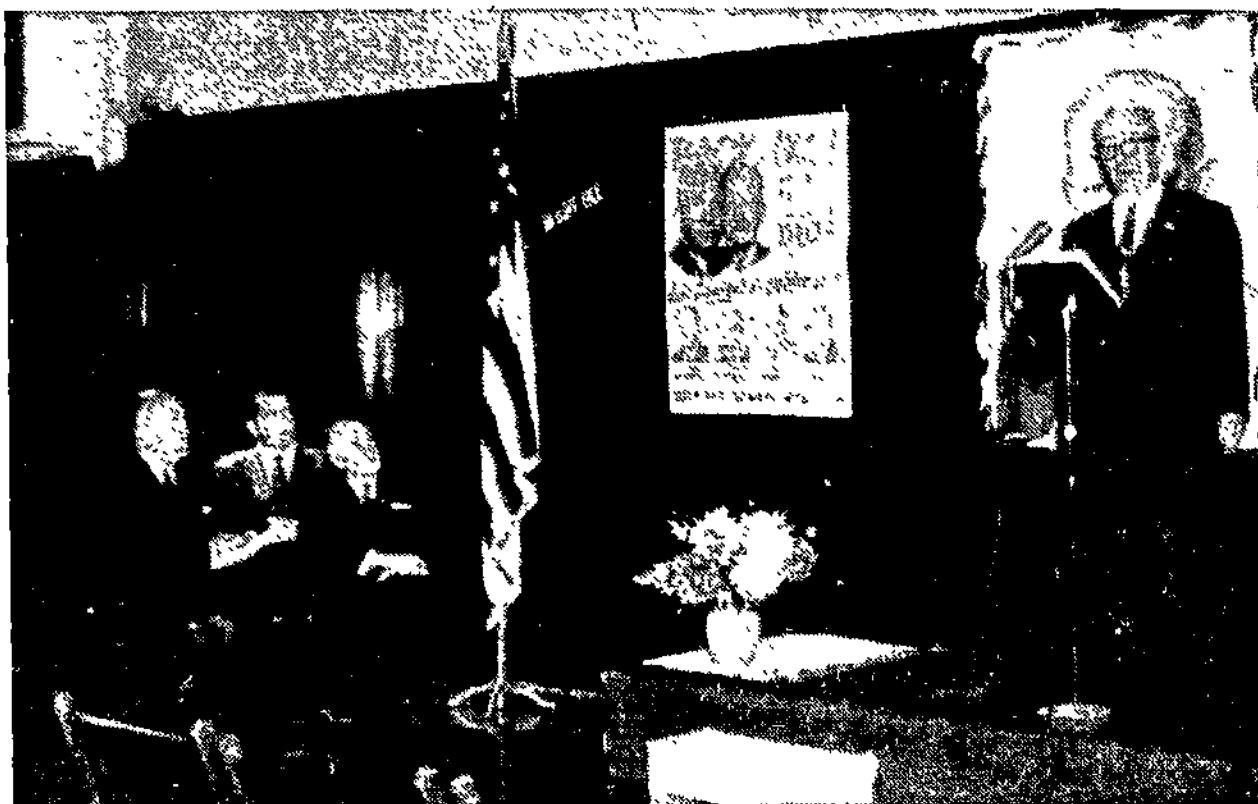

Dr. Thomas Todd, Beaver County Coroner, said Wams recently received an award from the Virginia Surety Co. for six consecutive years of safe driving with the Midwest Haulers Inc., Toledo. Wams was alone in the truck.

PITTSBURGH RALLY
Pittsburgh (AP)—Gov. George Leader and Joseph S. Clark, Democratic candidate for U. S. Senator, will be featured speakers at a campaign rally Sept. 27 at North Side Carnegie Hall. The rally will be sponsored by the Allegheny County Democratic organization.

North Carolina Joe Smith and Wife Change Parties
Greensboro, N. C. (AP)—After being a faithful Republican for 43 years, Joe Smith became a registered Democrat this week.

He's not the mythical "Joe Smith" a delegate attempted to nominate for vice president at the Republican National Convention, but a real live, voting Joe Smith. The reason he changed parties: He just didn't like what he called the "smug attitude" of the Republicans at the national convention, as he saw it on television. His wife Margaret also changed parties.

Senator at Meet-Candidates Luncheon

The above picture shows United States Senator James H. Duff while he was addressing a luncheon reception at the activities building of the YWCA today noon. Others shown to the left include left to right, Charles C. Smith, candidate for auditor general; Robert F. Kent, Meadville, candidate for state treasurer, and G. Harold Watkins, candidate for Superior Court. Congressman Leon H. Gavin, Oil City, was also in attendance, sitting with friends in the audience.

Senator James H. Duff, speaking at a Meet-Your-Candidate luncheon today, set the tone of his talk by saying "this is the most vicious campaign in which we have ever engaged" and then went on to lash out at accusations thrown at him by his Democratic opponent, Joe Clark.

First, Sen. Duff protected his attendance record in the Senate by comparing it with the Democratic sub-standard bearer, Estes Kefauver. (Clark makes all his campaign appearances on stage, beside an empty chair, apparently referring to Duff's appearance in the Senate.)

In the 83rd Congress, Duff said, he was present for 75 per cent of the compulsory votes, against 59 per cent attended by Kefauver. In the 84th Congress, Duff claimed a 90 per cent of voting attendance, compared to Kefauver's 55 per cent.

Given a standing ovation by the more than 400 persons attending the luncheon when he assumed the platform, Sen. Duff concluded his speech by praising President Eisenhower's program of military preparedness which he called a strong deterrent to Russia's aggressive movements, and a long way from the military weaknesses of the Truman administration which invited the Korean conflict.

Speaking briefly before Duff were his three running-mates Robert F. Kent, state treasurer candidate; Charles C. Smith, for auditor general; G. Harold Watkins, superior court judge candidate. The first two noted only that they had spoken before to Warren area groups. Watkins, referring to Duff, remarked that he was pleased to be speaking in the home territory of LeRoy E. Chapman, dean of the state legislature. He also urged the persons attending to greater efforts to elect the first Republican president as a resident of Pennsylvania, Dwight David Eisenhower.

Speaking after Duff, Leon Gavin commended those assembled for their excellent showing during the recently completed registration drive and urged them to continue their efforts and provide a victory margin in the forthcoming election.

Sen. Duff said in his brief address that his Democratic opponent, Joseph S. Clark, of Philadelphia "does not understand the principles of American government philosophy. In the Atlantic Monthly for July, 1953, Joe Clark wrote: 'Spiritually and economically youth is conditioned to respond to a liberal program of orderly policing of our society by government subject to popular will.'"

"Do you know what that means? That is what Hitler did when he got the S. S. (Secret Police) in the early days of its training."

"Now I don't say Joe Clark means to do the same thing, but I do say he does not understand the mental philosophy. And this is the kind of man who wants to represent you in the U. S. Senate."

"Do you, whoever you are, want your children policed in an orderly way by the government or do you want the church and the family to do the bringing up of your children?"

The colorful political career of Sen. Duff has been sparked by his years as state attorney general under Gov. Edward Martin, governor of Pennsylvania (elected in 1946) and since 1950 as U. S. senator.

He is one of the earliest supporters of President Eisenhower, served in the 82nd, 83rd and 84th congress and is now a member of the Senate Armed Services committee, the Senate Interstate and (Turn to Page Eight)

First Snow of the Season Is Reported In Rural Districts
First snow of the season was reported in isolated sections of the county today. A report at 9:25 from Harry Chinnberg stated there was snow in the air at Scandria at that time, and a similar report came from Quaker Hill and the higher sections of Pleasant township. Temperature in Warren this morning was 36 degrees.

The Associated Press weather roundup today says:

By The Associated Press
A blast of cold air from Canada today tumbled temperatures to a record low in many parts of Western Pennsylvania.

One community — Scandia in Warren County—reported a light trace of snow and temperatures near freezing.

The forecast for the western part of the state calls for frost tonight with a low of 30-35 degrees.

It was topcoat weather over wide areas of the eastern half of the nation today as temperatures dropped below freezing in northern sections.

Cold air from Canada moved southward during the night and by early morning extended from the lower Great Lakes region southwestward through the northern Ohio Valley and into the northern parts of the lower Mississippi Valley and Texas.

Governor Suggests Fund Probe Include Duff's Campaigns

Harrisburg (AP)—Governor Leader said today any FBI probe of Democratic fund-raising efforts should include contributions to the campaigns of Senator Duff (R-Pa.) in 1946 and 1950.

"If he (Duff) wants to run an investigation, we suggest he widen the scope of it to include the campaigns of 1950 and 1946," Leader told a news conference. "I'm sure he would want to be fair and just about it."

Leader made the statement when asked to comment on Duff's plan to tell the FBI his version of how state Democratic leaders sold tickets to a $50-a-plate fund-raising dinner in Harrisburg last Thursday.

25,000 Meat Workers on Strike in Windy City
Chicago (AP)—Some 25,000 meat workers struck in 37 cities today crippling operations of Swift & Co. the nation's largest meat packer.

Spokesmen for the two unions involved and the company said there was no plan to resume peace talks at once.

There were sporadic arrests near Chicago's sprawling stockyards as the unions threw up picket lines and halted employees of other packers at 14 entrances for gate identification checks.

Picket lines also formed at Swift plants in some other cities.

WARNS SMALL TOWNS WOULD BE ISOLATED

Mansfield (AP)—State Highways Secretary Joseph L. Lawler said today any relocation or reconstruction of U. S. 6 under the federal interstate highway program might isolate small towns and business along the present route.

Lawler made the statement as he and other state and federal highway officials began a survey of the east-west route across northern counties. The survey will be made east from Mansfield, in Tioga County, to Matamoras, Pike County.

A prime object of the State Highways Department, Lawler said, is preservation and improvement of U. S. 6.

"This can best be accomplished by including Rt. 6 on the federal primary system," Lawler declared in a statement. "Putting the route on the interstate system would be a definite handicap to every town and business located on the highway."

Requirements for highways to be put on the interstate system include limited access, as well as reconstruction and relocation in most cases.

"The construction standards for the interstate system would compel a complete relocation of the route," Lawler added. "Limited access traffic control, the basic standard for the interstate system, would force a by-pass of every important town along the highway."

Lawler said the present route "has been badly neglected for the past 20 years."

"What is needed is a complete program for modernizing the highway so that it can be properly utilized for the benefit of those who have built their homes and (Turn to Page Eight)

State Approval Is Received To Start Flood Repair Work
Warren Borough received state approval today to begin its program of rebuilding and resurfacing roads which were damaged in the March flood.

Assemblyman Allen Gibson sponsored a bill which brought Warren under terms of a disaster financial aid act which was passed after hurricane Diane ripped through Pennsylvania in August, 1955.

At the July session, Borough Council approved a resolution that the state be requested for road aid under terms of the new amendment. Borough estimated the work would cost $47,245.50 to resurface with a top soil 32,000 square feet and Clark Street on the island.

Bids will be advertised today in the Times-Mirror. A total of $50,000 is available to communities for the repair work under the new bill enacted with the aid of Assemblyman Gibson.

Reports on Past and Future Projects Made at JC Meeting

Braving the inclement weather of last evening the regular monthly meeting of the Warren Jaycees was held last evening in the chapter rooms at the YMCA with a large attendance present to hear several fine reports on past projects and excellent suggestions for future ones, including the annual Halloween parade.

President Robert Geiger was directed by the general membership to appoint a chairman for a new project; that of aiding the Borough Council in the recruitment of auxiliary firemen to supplement the regular force.

Chairman Geiger was also directed to select a committee to direct a radio forum.

Chairman John Coulter, of the "Get Out the Vote" committee, reported on several medias of communication which are to be used by his group to urge the voters of Warren county to turn out in full force come election day.

John McGarry, chairman of the recent tennis tournament, reported on the success of his project, which was previously covered in this paper.

Frank McHenry gave a progress report on the development of plans for the annual Halloween Parade for the youngsters of Warren and vicinity.

An interesting resume of the recently organized Citizens Committee which is engaged in a study of the problem of an adequate high school for Warren, was submitted.

An announcement that a committee meeting for the turkey shoot project is scheduled to be held in the Reading Room of the YMCA this evening at 8:00 p. m. Any interested Jaycees are urged to attend as the present group needs a few more able-bodied, hard-working, enthusiastic young men.

A final note of business was concluded which entailed the adoption of a resolution to be sent to the Borough Council concerning the desire for an ambulance service for Warren and vicinity, and the meeting adjourned.

Huge Throng Attends Stein Anniversary

Even the driving rains last night could not hold back the crowds who swarmed to Stein's Ladies Shop to help them observe their 50th anniversary of retailing quality woman's garments in Warren at 344 Pennsylvania avenue, west.

An estimated 800 ladies, many closely followed by gents, roamed the premises from 7 to 10 p. m. last evening, receiving earnings as favors and eyeing anniversary merchandise.

Burgess William E. Rice snipped the Golden Ribbon to symbolize completion of a half century of progressive merchandising and the start of another 50 years.

The store's founder and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Stein, flew in from Florida for the observance. Also on hand, of course, was his son and present Stein manager, Ray Stein.

Hostesses at the refreshment stand were Mrs. Mary Harlan and Miss Betty Currie, who welcomed the hundreds of guests.

Models Miss Carol Amacher and Mrs. Ronald Massa passed in review throughout the affair, each wearing an outfit depicting contrasts in old and new styles as fashions progressed in evening wear, graduation dresses, flapper era and others.

The store, decorated in a motif of gold for the 50th anniversary, was blanketed with flowers from business friends in Warren and associates from New York.

An extra sales staff could hardly cope with the floods of customers who were in a holiday mood despite the weather. Merchandise was said to be going "cafeteria style."

Door prizes of Bermuda sweater,

NeMend hose and Carlye dress were awarded.

The anniversary observance, complete with specials, will continue through October 6 with a mink stole awaiting a lucky lass at that time.

Labor Disputes Are Reported in Two Large Refineries

Emlenton—Union employees of the local refinery plant of the Quaker State Oil Refining Corporation early yesterday voted to strike if a contract is not signed with the company.

The employees, members of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers International Union, Local 11-481 have been working without a contract since May 24.

Contract negotiations between the union committee and representatives of the local plant will be resumed at 2 p. m. tomorrow.

A special meeting of the Emlenton employees of the Quaker State plant here will be held at 7:30 p. m. tomorrow.

F. J. Prorok, international representative of the union, said no date for the strike had been set. He said about 140 union members are employed by the local refinery.

Mr. Prorok did not reveal what the margin of the vote was except to say it was "overwhelming."

He said the company would be notified at Friday's meeting how many workers favored a strike and how many voted against it.

Smethport (P)—Employees of the nearby Farmers Valley refinery of the Quaker State Oil Refining Corporation walked off the job early today in a contract dispute.

Supervisory personnel were permitted to continue on fire watch and conduct other plant protection duties.

About 225 members of the local 11-063 of the Oil, Chemical and Atomic Workers International Union authorized the walkout as they were unable to agree on new contract terms. They had been working without a contract since last July 6.

There was no statement from Quaker State. The union did not reveal its demands.

Ninety-Minute TV Show Draws Some Caustic Comment

By CHARLES MERCER
New York (P)—Harcourt Hennevy, the television critic, snapped off the set after observing "The Lord Don't Play Favorites", the first Producers' Showcase offering of the season on NBC-TV and asked his wife Henrietta, "What did you think?"

It was a rhetorical question because he knew what Henrietta thought. But she, a loyal wife, replied, "Good title. Wretched show."

Harcourt mullied over the word "wretched" and regretfully dismissed it as a trifle strong for reviewing purposes.

"You know what I think?" Henrietta's question was rhetorical too, for she continued, "I think that these days a 90-minute television show has to be good enough for Broadway. I mean both the book and the music. It doesn't have to be two-year-run Broadway material, but it should be good enough to last through Saturday night. And this one, this 'The Lord Don't Play Favorites' just wasn't. What are you going to say about it?"

"Well," said Harcourt, "I—"

"I thought the cast was pretty good," Henrietta said. "I liked Kay Starr, and Dick Haymes really was very good. But why did they bury Buster Keaton's wonderful deadpan? And they didn't let Louis Armstrong really do his stuff except for that one time."

"True," said Harcourt, "but—"

"But my main criticism," said Henrietta, "is that it was such a thin story. Victor Herbert thought up some corny ones in his time, but even on his night off he could come up with something a little more—"

"Victor Herbert," Harcourt began sentimentally, "was—"

"I wouldn't care if I ever heard a Victor Herbert song again," said Henrietta, "but at least his music sticks in my head."

"But I think in all fairness you should point out that this is only the first show of the season. There undoubtedly will be some better ones coming up. I mean let's hope there are some better ones coming up."

"But what," asked Henrietta, "are you going to say in your review of this show?"

"Well," said Harcourt, "I—"

Ham, Fried Chicken and Pork Loin Leading Meats This Week

By The Associated Press
Ham and potatoes, fried chicken and potatoes, and pork loin and potatoes will be served at many an American dinner table this weekend.

At least, they are the meats that will be featured in supermarkets and corner groceries to tempt the nation's housewives. As for potatoes, they have changed from their premium status of early July to virtually a glut on the market just about everywhere.

Other pork cuts also will be featured in many stores, with the price of pork down from 2 to 20 cents in some areas. Beef is still quite high-priced in most sections, showing increases from 3 to 6 cents, and chickens also are reported a little higher in some places.

The potato situation is almost a textbook demonstration of the economic laws of supply and demand. Extremely small spring and early summer crops drove prices upward. Now a late summer crop 7

Higher Gas Bills May Be Suspended Additional 90 Days

Erie—Higher Erie gas bills, suspended for six months by the Public Utility Commission pending outcome of current protest hearings, may be suspended for an additional 90 days.

City Solicitor Gerald Weber said yesterday there is a definite possibility that the hearings will not be concluded prior to December 2, when the suspension is scheduled to end.

Weber returned from Washington following a conference with Rate Expert Martin Bennett. Solicitor Jacob Held represented the county at the conference.

Two legal aides are preparing for the third round of hearing in the city-county fight against a proposed 14-per cent general rate increase by Pennsylvania Gas Company. The hearings will be held September 27 and 28 in the county courthouse.

Weber said there will undoubtedly be more hearings, perhaps a fourth and even a fifth round.

George Hess, a member of Bennett's staff, will attend next week's hearings.

Weber said one day of the two-day session will be devoted to cross-examination of company witnesses. One day will be devoted to cross-examination of the company by members of the PUC staff.

"Pennsylvania Gas may want another round of hearings to present rebuttal testimony," Weber said. "The city can also ask for a round in which to present direct testimony."

The first two rounds of hearings which were held in June and July were used by the firm for presentation of direct testimony concerning the amount of money invested in plants, equipment and natural gas storage and estimated depreciation.

Charles Tatham, an investment expert, told the PUC that Pennsylvania Gas should be entitled to a profit rate of 6.5 to 6.8 per cent.

The profit rate would be based on a "fair value" determination by the PUC as to how much Pennsylvania Gas Company is actually worth. This will fall some where between $21 million, representing original construction costs less depreciation, and $36 million, current replacement costs less depreciation.

Producers To Hold Dinner in Butler On September 24th

More than 150 oil producers from the Kane-to-Butler area are expected to attend the annual Butler dinner of the Middle District Producers Association in Butler Monday evening, September 24.

William S. Lytle, Association President, said reports indicate widespread interest throughout the region in the subject to be discussed by P. L. Termilliger, Gulf Research and Development Co., Pittsburgh, in situ method of producing oil.

Hosts to the producers at the dinner at 6:30 p. m., in the Butler Elks Club will be a number of Pennsylvania refiners and oil field supply houses.

In this new method of secondary recovery, Mr. Lytle said, a five-well pattern may be used with four producing wells surrounding one injection well. Unrecovered oil in the vicinity of the injection well is ignited and the rate of burning is controlled by the amount of air injected into the burning zone through the injection well. The theory back of the project: Reduce the viscosity of the crude oil and drive it ahead of the burning front towards the producing well. It is thought that about 20 per cent of the oil in the reservoir will be burned during the operation and the remaining oil brought to the surface by the producing wells; thus depleting the producing horizon of all its oil.

Dinner reservations are being made with Mr. Lytle at 110 E. Diamond street, Butler, Charles Edwards of Keystone Pipe & Supply Co., Butler, has been chairman of the dinner sponsorship committee.

Pennsylvania's Poultry Queen Is New York Visitor

New York—Big chicken eaters can eat an average of four and one-half two-pound chickens at one sitting the Poultry and Egg National Board discovered after totaling up the results of the World's Champion Chicken Eating Contest at Forest Hills, Long Island, N. Y., on September 12.

Pennsylvania's red haired Poultry Queen, Elizabeth (Betty) Erb, of Lebanon, visited New York in order to officiate at the unusual event which was won by a man who ate 47 halves. She shared the duties of inspiring the 28 contestants, and serving them chicken, with the poultry queens from seven other states.

The Pennsylvania State Poultry Federation arranged for her trip which included appearance on radio and TV programs and a stay at a hotel. The Federation also contributed 100 pounds of chicken to the mountain which was eaten by the contestants, the contest judges and scores of invited guests.

The judges were Ruth Alami, WRCA-TV; Hal Boyle, AP columnist; Jean Fisher, NBC Home Show; Alfred and Dora McCann, WOR; Josephine McCarthy, NBC; Alice Petersen, New York Daily and Sunday News; and Ann Sopenky, Brooklyn Union Gas Company. Peter Carhart, Gourmet Magazine, who was to have been one of the judges, was prevented from attending due to illness.

Rules of the contest were kept as simple as possible. The chicken was served one-half per portion and had to be well eaten before the judges signaled to the queens to bring the next portions.

A crowd of spectators, estimated at over 1000, viewed the spec-

HARD TO KEEP COOL

To urge the contenders for national office to avoid extremes of campaign oratory may be to ask politicians not to be politicians, suggests Bruce Biossat in a timely editorial written for NEA Service and the Times-Mirror. Nevertheless, he says, such cautioning is an effort that sideline observers must undertake in the interest of promoting balance and reasonableness in our political life.

No one who has the faintest notion what it is like in the inner councils of a candidate's entourage can imagine that it is easy to resist the push toward extremes of utterance.

The candidates, especially when they are traveling about on a frantic schedule and toiling almost from sun-up to midnight, live in a kind of half-world which makes reality hard to cling to.

They have few moments of privacy when they can take real thought. They are bombarded with a thousand pressures from every side. "Don't say this here. . . . You must make a statement on that topic or we'll lose this state. . . . Please, whatever you do, don't mention that fellow's name here. . . . If we don't have a flat statement on the war issue, we're sunk."

A look at this history of campaign shows that nominees for the presidency, for whom all these pressures are compounded, not only say many things they should not say but often say things they do not need to.

The record indicates that a nominee's close advisers frequently make bad guesses as to the tightness of the race. Consequently they push their man into statements they believe will help him gain the decisive edge.

An example, recently recalled by Frank Freidel, Harvard history professor, in the third volume of his excellent biography of Franklin D. Roosevelt, can be taken from the latter's 1940 campaign against Wendell L. Willkie.

He was in the shadow of the European war, trying hard to stay out. With the future so unpredictable, responsible statesmanship should not have included any declaration so flat as "our boys will not be sent to fight on foreign shores."

Yet Mr. Roosevelt was persuaded to make that statement, his advisers convincing him it was necessary to win the election.

Not long after, Mr. Roosevelt rolled up 25 million votes to Willkie's 22 million. Those around the president conceded if they'd had any idea that margin would prevail they never would have counseled him to make the statement.

By the same token, in 1952 President Eisenhower was told to delete a complimentary reference to Gen. George C. Marshall in a Wisconsin speech, on the theory this would unwise inflame right-wing Republicans—including Senator McCarthy—who had made harsh charges against Marshall.

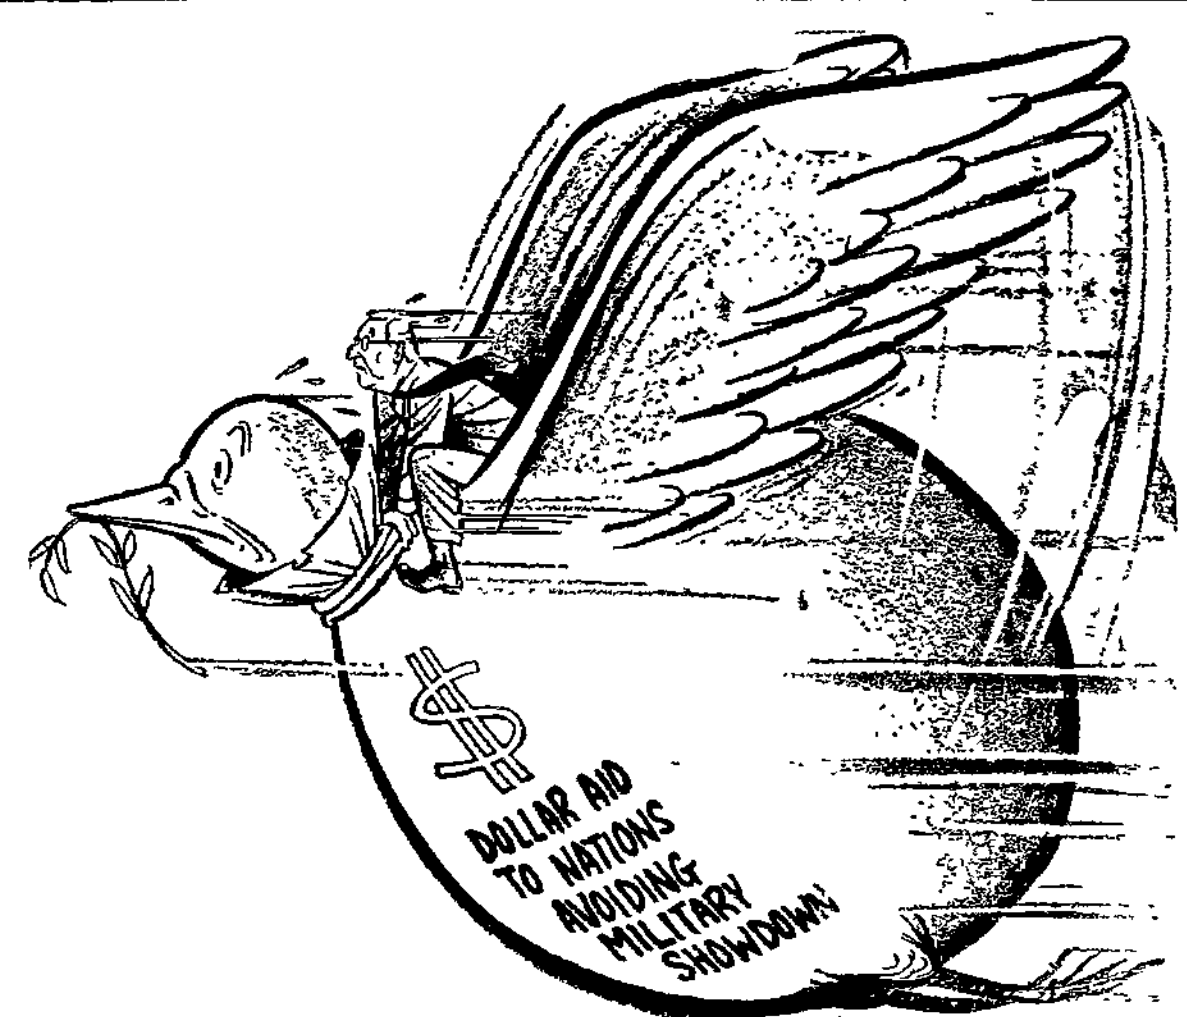

As it turned out, Mr. Eisenhower's victory was of such mammoth proportions that he need not have worried. And in Wisconsin his margin of 357,000 votes was more than 200,000 greater than McCarthy's.

It might be a good idea if all presidential candidates were to insist on a "quiet time" even on the most hectic days, when they could take calm thought and resolve to retreat at least five paces from all the extremes urged on them during the day.

The Times-Mirror family from the publishers to the carriers to Ernie and Ray Stein and the staff at the Stein Ladies' Shop on the occasion of the fiftieth anniversary which was so successfully launched last evening when an estimated crowd of between 800 and 1,000 attended the opening ceremonies despite the cold and wet weather that prevailed.

The presidential campaign in Warren county got away to an official start when the slate of Republican candidates was greeted at the YWCA during a noon-hour reception today.

Frank Hyde, well known veteran sports writer in Jamestown, and who fought five times in one day, finally losing the decision in the last bout. The next day I was walking down the street when George Davis, an oldtime referee, yelled, "Hey, Phil, want to box in Bradford tonight?" I said "sure" and that started me as a pro, just like that. There have been fighters who fought longer, but few in ring history with the total disdian for the passing of time between scraps as the light-punching, will-of-the-wisp Logan. For instance, the book he wrote, "The Fight of the Century," which he fought Charlie McGovern a six-rounder in Buffalo, tackled Buddy Christiano three nights later and the following evening journeyed to Rochester to mingle with Harry Coulton. And the books also show he won all three. Then there were his 52 bouts in one year (1920) under Tommy Moore's management. "Oh, yes," he added as if an afterthought, "I took a two-week vacation from the ring that year, too." Phil left Jamestown and went to Dan Rogers out of Buffalo—a ring start "I was an amateur

While on the subject of boxing in the old days, this item from the "Times Column" of the Evening Times of September 20, 1906, makes timely reading: "Arrangements have been completed for a boxing carnival to be held in the dance hall at Irvinedale Park. The main bout promises to be of much interest as our own Glenn Martin will go against Jack McClelland of Pittsburgh. Jack is a clever boxer and Glenn has not gone back since his last appearance here so the affair should be a rattler. Some good preliminaries are also provided. The date is set for Friday, September 28th." (Note—an item in the issue of September 28th, says the bout was declared a draw by Referee Moynihan, of Jamestown.)

And it was just fifty years ago today that it was announced: "The season of 1906 at Irvinedale Park closed with yesterday's events, and while a few picnics will be held yet at the park the band will play no more and the amusements will be at an end. The season has been an excellent one despite the fact that the amusements were few and consisted of attractions at the theatre. The concerts were given by the A. F. of M. band of Warren and were excellent indeed. Charles Lind has done wonders with the organization and at their classes they have rendered some high class numbers. Next season a large sum of money will be spent in the park and it will be made what it really should be—an amusement park."

Steel Strike Settlement Gets Dumped Into Politics

BY PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—The recent steel strike settlement has become a political issue in this year's campaign on the question of whether it was negotiated by free, collective bargaining.

The charge is that there was, after all, some high governmental pressure exerted to get the contract signed.

At the Republican National Convention President Eisenhower declared that "For the first time in history, a complete steel contract was negotiated and signed without direct government intervention."

But at the International Association of Machinists convention which followed the GOP into San Francisco, IAM President A. J. Hayes raised a question on this point.

Hayes raised the story that Secy. of the Treasury George M. Humphrey had arranged a meeting between Secy. of Labor James P. Mitchell and three steel company presidents in New York. At this meeting, Mitchell is alleged to have told the steelmen that a long strike would endanger Republican election chances.

"IF THIS STORY is true," Hayes said in a San Francisco speech, "it means that Mitchell—to use a very unpleasant word—blackmailed the steel companies into a settlement."

"If the story is not true," Hayes added later, "it is one of the biggest political hoaxes ever attempted."

He declared it would be hard to rationalize such activities with the GOP platform plank advocating "free collective bargaining" without intervention of the government."

At the Treasury Department, the only comment available from Secretary Humphrey's office is that he did not intervene officially.

It is neither confirmed nor denied he had a hand in the Mitchell-steel executives meeting.

AT THE LABOR DEPARTMENT It is confirmed that Mitchell and Conciliation Service Director Joseph F. Finnegan met with three steel company heads at the Plaza Hotel July 10. They were Clifford F. Bartlett of U.S. Steel, Charles McElroy White of Republic and Arthur Hordell Homer of Bethlehem. These three were not members of the negotiating committee.

Mitchell told them that a long strike would not be in the public interest, that an injunction under the Taft-Hartley act would be against government free-bargaining policy.

That same night Mitchell was summoned to the 42nd floor of the Waldorf Tower, where he met the steel industry negotiators and repeated his plea for a settlement.

Mitchell went from there back to the Plaza where he met with United Steel Workers President David MacDonald, who had been told to stand by.

MacDONALD AGREED to resume negotiations in Pittsburgh the next day with the Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service sitting in. Negotiations went on for three days, then broke off.

By phone, Mitchell then called both sides and told them they should not quit. Finally John Stevens, vice president of U.S. Steel and chief of the negotiators, volunteered to meet MacDonald alone.

These two worked out the agreement that finally ended the 36-day strike.

It is admitted at the Labor Department that Mitchell and Humphrey were in consultation before and during the strike.

The role that Mitchell played is defended as being in conformity with the law and Mitchell and Conciliation Service practice to provide the proper climate for free, collective bargaining.

Mrs. Emory E. Berger, district vice president, conducted the session and the 12 County Federation presidents presented excellent progress reports. Among these were Mrs. Clyde Waddell, of Tidouete Fortnightly Club, who is president of Warren County Federation.

The state junior director, Mrs. Lynn Hunter, gave a most interesting talk on "Almings for the Stars".

Highlight of the day was a talk by Mrs. Woodrow R. Mattern, president of the State Federation, who inspired her listeners to plan more intensive community projects. A discussion period followed,

'I've Tried' Is the Flag Of Failure for a Wife

"I've tried to be a good wife," those whose marriages are close to the breaking point usually say somewhere in their letters to me.

And with that sentence they dismiss their responsibility for the fact that the marriage is failing. If they have "tried," they reason it must be the husband's fault that the marriage isn't happy.

No woman who tells herself and others that she has "tried to be a good wife" and lets her responsibility rest on that, has the slightest chance of improving her marriage relationship.

Only by going a step further and admitting "but I must have failed somewhere" is she putting herself on the road to a better marriage.

For this important question naturally follows that admission: Where have I failed?

EASIER TO CORRECT SELF, THAN HUSBAND

THE woman who is willing to go back over the years of her marriage, looking not for her husband's faults and weaknesses and mistakes but for her own, is sure to find many ways in which she has failed.

And those are the mistakes that she can correct, those are situations that she can change.

For she can change herself, she can contribute more, she can swap her hopeless cry of "I've tried to be a good wife" for "I'm going to be a better wife."

She can change herself much more easily than she can ever change her husband. So instead of worrying about how he has failed she will get further by finding out where and why she has failed.

"I've tried to be a good wife" is the defense of the woman who has given up. "I'm going to be a better wife" is the conviction of the wife who is determined to make her marriage succeed.

For a wedding trip to an undisclosed destination, the bride wore a black and white suit and black accessories.

The Mature Parent

Child Needs Time to Unwind Before Sleep, Just as You Do

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

ONCE as a baby Ken was quite ill. After 48 hours of nursing him, his mother was so tired that his father sent her to bed.

But though she lay down, she could not fall asleep. All the excited feelings aroused in her by her sick baby still connected her to him so that she couldn't separate herself from him—and withdraw into the privacy of sleep.

She has also remained wakeful after arguments, gossiping about family matters, on the eve of trips—all occasions when intense interest in other people and events made it hard to retreat from them into sleep.

Yet tonight at Ken's bedtime, though she'd just put an abrupt end to his Bus Conductor game, she demanded that he accept the immediate idea of sleep.

HE fought it. His feelings were still too closely attached to his imaginary bus passengers to stand the sudden removal from them. He refused to leave them. His mother lost her temper—and she and Ken played out an angry scene.

Experienced parents never try to transfer a child too rapidly from intense activity to the quiet kind. Around his bedtime, they either see that he involves himself in the quiet kind; or if he's got mixed up in the intense kind, give him time to unwind.

Before presenting him with the idea of sleep, they reduce the excitement of his Bus Conductor emotions by sharing them with him. They might say, "Can you go a little slower, conductor? What is your next stop? I want to talk to you..."

To make this patient approach work, we need no training in child psychology. All we need is to remember our own experience with overstimulation at bedtime.

KEN will not grow quiet because we've read some child guidance book on how to treat "overstimulation in the pre-bedtime child." The development will occur only as he feels himself in the quiet, understanding presence of a person who also knows what excited feelings are.

My chief criticism of parent education is the educator's habit of suggesting that children's problems are different from other human problems.

By implying that Ken's pre-bedtime "overstimulation" is unlike what his mother feels when she's overexcited at her bedtime, the experts make us feel it's a mysterious malady for which they only possess the cure.

Actually bedtime overstimulation is a serious adult problem in our country—as our sales of sleeping pills will testify.

YWCA Program Committee Arranges Special Events

The program committee of the YWCA has been hard at work making plans for a year of social and educational activity for the entire membership.

Much interest has been shown since the committee first announced the Rev. Herman Bielenberg, Oil City, will be presented in an evening of his colored slides. Rev. Bielenberg has been in Warren many times and "Y" members and friends are looking forward to another evening of picture thrills. This program will be on Monday, October 8, at 8:00 p. m.

A special event for each month of the year is the aim of the program committee and the following attractions are being planned: November—World Fellowship Service; December—Luncheon and Fashion Show; January—Annual Meeting; February—Card Party; March—Musical Tea; April—YWCA Week.

"Ladies Day Out", which proved very successful last year, will be held again this fall. The session will be held on Thursdays, starting October 18 through November 29, with the exception of Thanksgiving week. Classes will be held in bridge, swimming and ceramics, and possibly several others. A nursery will be provided for children from two to five years of age.

Mrs. Robert Whitehill, chairman and Mrs. Fred Emhardt, assistant, along with their committee, are most anxious to meet the needs and desires of the women of the community. Program suggestions may be made to any member of the committee or by calling the "Y" office at 450.

Mrs. Downey also has two grandchildren, Michello and Pamela Lauffenberger. She is making by hand a quilt for Michello and, when it is completed, plans to make another for the baby. Lovely gifts and many cards will help to keep the day bright in her mind.

Newspapers Play An Important Role In Traffic Safety

Pittsburgh (P) — Newspapers and magazines have an important role in directing public consciousness to the ever increasing need of automobile safety, says Palmer Hoyt, editor and publisher of the Denver (Colo.) Post.

He said there must be a mobilization of public opinion to help cut down death on the nation's highways.

Speaking before the 54th annual meeting of the American Automobile Assn., Hoyt yesterday added: "We must try to condition the American people to accepting the expenditures of public money for the relief of traffic congestion and the expansion of our national and state road and highway network."

"For those who decry the cost I would like to suggest that a country that has spent 50 billion dollars for foreign aid can argue effectively in favor of expenditures of 35 billion for a domestic program that will improve our economy."

"When all people come to the full realization of what the terrific toll of traffic accidents means to the country, to communities and to families, then and then only will we be truly on our way."

Farewell

Greetings were extended by the following ministers of the Warren District: Carl Jacobson, Sheffield; C. J. Franzen, Youngsville; Chester Nelson, Titusville, and Charles Lindquist, Oil City.

Also by Pastor F. B. Haer, First Lutheran church; and the Rev. Beecher M. Rutledge, president of Warren County Ministerial Association; Dr. L. F. Nordstrom, Jamestown; Dan K. Walton, general secretary of the YMCA; and Russell Thelin, superintendent of St. Paul's Sunday school.

After the senior choir had sung an anthem, "Consider and Hear Me," with solo by David Anderson, Mrs. Melbourne Karlson presented orchids to Mrs. Gustafson and Miss Elsa and Mr. Osterman presented Pastor Gustafson with a generous purse of money.

His gracious response was followed by a hymn, "The Lord My Shepherd Is," and the Benediction by Pastor Beckman.

All were then invited to the parlors, where refreshments were served by the Martha and Dorcas Societies under the co-chairmanship of Mrs. Albie Peterson and Mrs. Carl Lundahl. Wives of board of administration members, Mrs. Curtis Sasser, Mrs. Elmer Lundahl, Mrs. Richard Osterman and Mrs. C. Walter Johnson, presided at tables beautifully centered with deep rose asters and matching candles.

Throughout the church and social rooms were beautiful flowers brought from the gardens of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Johnson, Mrs. Henry Jacobson, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Carlson and Mrs. Ellen Valentine.

established their business along the route," the highways secretary noted.

"The development of the Keystone Shortway and a complete improvement of Rt. 6 will give the northern tier counties a system of highways which is long overdue," he added.

"Rt. 6 is the economic lifeline of the upper tier counties," he said. "I am confident that the majority of the people living in the towns along the route want to continue to have free use of the road."

The Keystone Shortway would be a limited access highway. Its construction has been authorized by the Legislature. It would extend from Stroudsburg, at the eastern border of the state, to Sharon in the west.

OBITUARIES

FUNERAL INFORMATION WILL BE FOUND UNDER ANOTHER HEADING

Resident of County Dies of Injuries Sustained in Jan.

Funeral services will be held at 3:00 p. m. Sunday in Frewsburg, N. Y., for Paul Albert Dudgeon, native of Warren county and resident of that community for the past four years.

The Rev. Macklyn Lindstrom, Sharon, will conduct the rites, assisted by the Rev. E. W. Chitester, Frewsburg Methodist minister, and interment will follow in Maple Grove cemetery, Frewsburg. Military rites at the graveside will be in charge of the Samuel Derby Post, Frewsburg American Legion.

Mr. Dudgeon, volunteer fireman in the Frewsburg Fire Department, died early Wednesday morning in University Hospital in New York City as the result of a broken neck received in an automobile accident on January 28, 1955.

The car in which he and Donald E. Gustafson were returning from a fire skidded on the Wiltse road, near Frewsburg, and overturned in a creek bed about 20 feet below. Dudgeon remained in WCA Hospital in Jamestown until March of this year, when he was taken to New York.

Dudgeon was a member of the Frewsburg Fire Department, and Samuel Derby Post of the American Legion. The organizations held a benefit party for him last year and monies received were placed in a trust fund for him.

"He (Stevenson) remarked to some of his staff," Fritchey said, "that he thought it significant that the Republicans could make front page headlines by promising to tell the truth."

Stevenson questioned the truth of what he said was one GOP claim as he made a new bid for the labor vote yesterday.

Governor Suggests

what he termed "bludgeoned" in buying tickets and that state-owned address plates were used in soliciting Democratic campaign contributions to Duff's campaign for governor in 1946 and for senator in 1950.

"If he wants them (the letters) now, we'll return them and keep copies of photostats," the governor said.

Leader, at his news conference, conceded that he was "reasonably certain" that state address plates were actually used. He renewed his stand that any wrong-doer would be fired.

Asked if such an action was a crime, he replied.

"I doubt that it is." The governor was then asked about a telegram sent him by Rep. Charles C. Smith, GOP candidate for auditor general, on the solicitation in Venango County for persons to work in state mental institutions.

Smith said the Venango County Democratic chairman placed an advertisement in the Oil City Derrick asking that qualified persons apply in person to him. This, said Smith, amounted to a break in the "no politics" ban at state institutions.

Leader replied that he welcomed the support of any political leader in either party to recruit badly needed technical and professional personnel at state hospitals.

Holly Fields, admitted wounded Kenneth Jugan, 24, with a .38 caliber pistol. He told Criminal Court Judge John J. Kennedy the shooting occurred during a card game. The bullet hit Jugan in the shoulder.

LEADER STEPS IN

Harrisburg (P) — Gov. Leader said today he would ask Samuel Cadogan, Carbon County Democratic chairman, to stop soliciting state employees for a fixed percentage of their salaries as political contributions. He was queried at his news conference about a GOP charge that Cadogan was proposing that state workers in Carbon county give 3 per cent of their salaries to the Democrats.

Extra-short hair needs as much attention as a long bob. Shampooing twice a week is often wise. This young woman uses a shampoo that makes just the right amount of lather for short hair. For easy shower use, it has a suction cap and a cord for hanging over shower fixture. This shampoo can be used by men, too.—By ALICIA HART, NEA Beauty Editor.

RUG MAKER

Lancaster (P) — If you get in the mood to pull the rug out from under somebody, don't try it on Mrs. Solomon Good. She estimates she's made 28 miles of rugs in 18 years, all braided and laced by hand.

And she's still at it. A large 12-foot rug takes about 500 yards of scrap material and a small throw-rug about 40 yards, she says. The scrap material, donated by friends, is washed and sorted before selection for a rug.

List of Jurors for October Term of Quarter Sessions Court

A list has been drawn of prospective jurors who will deliver a verdict in the case of the Commonwealth versus Joseph Swartz, Tidoute bank holdup suspect.

The 52 persons whose names have been drawn will appear in Warren County Court House at 10 a. m.; Monday, October 1, for a Court of General Quarter sessions.

Suspect Swartz is currently free on $5,000 cash bail. Warren County Grand Jury returned a true bill against him on August 6th.

Specifically, the 22-year-old trucking contractor was charged with armed robbery following a gunpoint holdup of Tidoute Branch of Warren National Bank on August 18, 1955. Unrecovered loot amounted to $11,776. Maximum penalty upon conviction would be 20 years. Warren Dis-

Everybody's Love: The Sheath

'Must' Garment Is Versatile

BY GAILE DUGAS
NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — The sheath, in some form, is in everybody's wardrobe this fall. It may be bloused. It may be slouch. It may have short sleeves or long. There are no sleeves at all on some. It is knitted or jersey or crepe or satin or wool or silk. It's for daytime or late-day or evening.

Though the sheath is for everyone, that doesn't mean that it lacks individuality. It offers lots of fashion differences and takes into account figure differences, too.

It goes easily, in basic colors, under coats and little jackets and sweaters. In some cases, it can go from the office to a dinner date with a little dressing up in the form of autumn jewelry.

We show (left) the sheath in beige wool flecked with white dots. This is the basic, simple and completely wearable version of the sheath. Designer Nelly de Gubins has given it impeccable tailoring.

Sheath dress by Laureling (right) has rich olive, red and gold printed on pure silk. Cummerbund is in solid color.

End of Fast Time In Corry Sept. 30 Is Raising a Storm

Corry Journal: Weather, someone once said, is something everybody talks about but nobody does anything about.

Today, in Corry, the same could not be said for TIME. Council at its meeting Monday night did something about time—it set the date for going off Daylight Saving Time as September 30.

And therein hangs a tale which by today had raised a storm of protests from local citizenry in all walks of life.

The complaints hinge on the fact that the city will be going off the DST schedule a full month ahead of many communities in other sections.

By way of an example as to how important (and possibly costly) this could be, one industrialist stated:

"Here's how it could affect us. At 5 o'clock our time, which will be 4 o'clock in other places on DST, we'll go home, leaving potential customers trying to reach us unsuccessfully for that last hour in the working day."

"This could see us adjusting our working hours from 9 to 6 p. m. in order to conform with fast time for that additional month."

Not the least affected will be railroad and bus lines serving the city. They make major changes in their schedules at the time the switch is made from DST to Standard Time and these undoubtedly will conform to that time schedule adopted by the greatest section of the population.

The problem is a little more complicated in that many communities have not yet decided whether to end DST in September or in October. Corry Council took its action after Mayor Earl Cherry said Meadville and Titusville were going off DST on September 30.

However, complaints to the reversion to slow time say that Erie and Jamestown are going to hold the extra month of daylight hours.

To the average Corryite the end of DST means that it will be getting dark one hour earlier in the evening and dawn will come one hour earlier in the morning.

JACK FROST SUGAR!

You know, one important secret of fluffy frosting is quick-dissolving sugar. And Jack Frost Sugar dissolves with just the easiest stirring.

FLUFFY MARSHMALLOW FROSTING

1 1/2 cups Jack Frost granulated sugar
1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar • 1/2 cup boiling water
2 egg whites • 8 marshmallows • 1 teaspoon vanilla

Combine Jack Frost Sugar and cream of tartar in saucepan. Add boiling water. Stir until sugar is dissolved. That means next-to-no-time when you use Jack Frost Quick-Dissolving Sugar.

Place over heat. Boil rapidly, without stirring, about 10 minutes or until syrup forms a soft ball in cold water—or until candy thermometer indicates 240° F. Remove from heat while testing.

Beat egg whites until stiff. Pour hot syrup in fine stream over egg whites, beating constantly with rotary egg beater until well blended. Add marshmallows. Continue beating until smooth. Stir in vanilla. Spread between layers and sides and on top of cooled cake.

Information About Filing For Refund For Farm Gasoline

Only a few of the many farmers who are eligible for refund of taxes on gasoline used in farming have filed their claims for refund, according to assistant county agent Bernard Wingert. In order to receive this refund on gasoline used from January 1 through June 30, the claim must be filed before October 1. The law does not permit late claims to be paid.

Under the law passed in April 1956 any farm owner, tenant, or operator who purchased gasoline for farm use may claim a refund amounting to two cents on each gallon used during the first six months of this year. Refunds on gasoline tax paid after July 1, will be made for the yearly period July 1, 1956 to June 30, 1957.

The claim, Form 2240, is available at Internal Revenue offices and County Agents' offices. Also available at these same offices is a pamphlet, "Publication No. 308," entitled "Farmer's Gas Tax Refund—June, 1956," which tells in easy-to-read language the rules and procedures to be followed in claiming refunds under the law. Claims or inquiries must be mailed before October 1 to the District Director of Internal Revenue in Pittsburgh.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Warren, Pa., Sept 19, 1956
Editor Times-Mirror.

Open letter to the electorate of Warren County.

Subject: Minority Commissioner L. L. Crippen.

Minority Commissioner L. L. Crippen has neglected to perform the duties of his office and should resign. On November 8, 1955, the Minority Commissioner, representing the Democratic Party of Warren County, polled the highest number of votes of the two candidates for his Party for the office of Commissioner and was duly elected to said office. On January 2, 1956, the Minority Commissioner took his oath of office in which he pledged, in effect, to faithfully perform the duties of his office.

Four months ago it was brought to the attention of the undersigned that Minority Commissioner Crippen was not performing the functions and duties of his office nor was he assuming the responsibilities of his office. Upon investigation the undersigned discovered that for the past four months Minority Commissioner Crippen has averaged somewhere between eight to ten hours per week in performance of his duties as Commissioner. There were days when Mr. Crippen never appeared at the Commissioner's office and there were many other days when Mr. Crippen would walk in the back door and out the front door.

It is impossible for any county officer to perform the duties of his office averaging eight to ten hours per week. The Commissioners being charged with supervising the various functions of County Government are required to spend considerable time in order to give proper service to the residents of the county. It has been said "a public office is a public trust". One who is guilty of non-feasance (non performance) in office violates his public trust.

The undersigned wishes to point out that in the event that Minority Commissioner Crippen resigns, his successor must be, under the law, a member of the Democratic Party. The law requires that both Parties be represented on the Board of County Commissioners. Therefore, this letter is not written to remove a Democratic office holder in order to replace him with a Republican. This letter is written to bring notice to the public that an elected official has failed to live up to the duties and responsibilities of his office and that he should either devote his full time and energy to said office or resign and permit his Party to select a successor. By way of contrast and comparison, Justice of the Peace E. N. Branch, a member of the same party as Commissioner Crippen has devoted all of his time to the proper performance of his office. It also is interesting to point out that William Olney, the former Minority Commissioner and Mr. Crippen's predecessor devoted full time to the performance of the duties of the Commissioners office. Mr. Crippen, in the opinion of the undersigned, enjoys a good reputation in this Community for honesty and integrity. However, non performance of duty by an elected official cannot be condoned.

The undersigned requests the leaders of the Democratic Party of Warren County, in the public interest, to make a public reply to this letter.

Respectfully,
Samuel F. Bonavita

Proposed Amendment to State Constitution Has Backing of Pennsylvania Bar Association

A proposed constitutional amendment designed to simplify the procedure for private corporation financing carries the backing of the Pennsylvania Bar Association.

The association meeting at Harrisburg Wednesday urged bipartisan backing of the proposed constitutional change which was passed by the last Legislature and will go before the public for a vote in the November election.

If approved, a constitutional requirement would be dropped and thereby eliminate a required 60-day notice of a stockholders' meeting called to increase a firm's indebtedness or seal a stock issue.

Mayor Nolan F. Ziegler, of Harrisburg, said the time limit removal would bring the law up to date.

Nolan, who sponsored the measure in the Legislature while he was an assemblyman, said:

"The 60-day provision was all right when the constitution was adopted 80 years ago. But traveling is much easier now and other states have a notice of 10 days or so."

John Mulford, Philadelphia, chairman of the bar association's corporation law committee, wrote the Democratic and Republican state chairmen asking their support for the change.

He contended the time clause became obsolete "at least 50 years ago" and that nothing comparable is today found in any state.

Should the amendment be approved, he added, appropriate changes in the pertinent legislation will be considered by the Pennsylvania Bar Association at its annual meeting in Pittsburgh next January, for recommendation to the 1957 session of the Legislature.

Elegant French Leather Gloves Are Washable

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

WITH this year's revival of interest in the decorated leather gloves that go with the 1912 look, fashion-conscious women will be happy to know that many of the gloves available keep their beauty because they're washable.

One kind, the French ones, of kid, suede and doekin, have been washable for decades. They come in white, black, beige, pink and blue, all colors that are right for this season's shades in costumes. They come with bead, sequin, jet, rhinestone, pearl and embroidered decorations.

The long gloves for formal occasions will be popular this fall. They range from the eight-button length, which comes below the elbow, to the 20-button length, which goes to just below the shoulder.

Regardless of color, length and kind of decoration, almost all of these gloves are stamped "washable" or "lavable" inside, which means they come clean with the use of suds.

Follow these rules for successful washing of French leather gloves:

They should always be washed, not cleaned. Cleaning fluids dissolve the washable finish.

They should be washed early, rather than late, because dirt and perspiration damage and stiffen leather.

Work up rich soap or detergent suds in lukewarm water. Wash kid or suede gloves on the hand and squeeze doekin through the suds. Use a well-lathered white washcloth on soiled spots. When clean on the right side, roll the wet gloves off inside-out and wash the wrong side. A soft complexion brush will remove soil from decorations.

Elegant wear for fall are these French leather gloves. They're white, but will stay pretty because they wash.

Rinse well, turn right side out and blot in a Turkish towel. Blow hard into each glove to puff it open and dry on a towel away from heat.

Pick up glove when still faintly damp and work or ease them onto your hands, gently. They can also be massaged with thumb and forefingers. This keeps the gloves soft.

The gloves should be stored in tissue paper.

One Man Cleared in Oil Lease Thefts in Southwest Twp.

Titusville Herald: One of two district men charged with the larceny of at least $200 in equipment from a Southwest Township oil lease has been cleared of the charge.

The man, Perry Nelson of Sparrowsburg, RD 3, was released following a hearing Tuesday night before Justice of the Peace R. H. Williams of Titusville, RD 2.

Justice Williams said last night Mr. Nelson had been falsely implicated by Allen Phelps of 509 E. Spruce street.

Following his arrest last Saturday, Phelps said Mr. Nelson had been an accomplice and "fingered" him in a local bar for the arrest of officers, Constable Mantford Vroman and Special Deputy Elaine Luke.

Phelps, whose name had been withheld until now at the request of officers, pleaded guilty to stealing pipes, pipe fittings, a motor and other metal equipment from the Penn-Bayless Gas & Oil Co. lease at Grand Valley, RD (near Pineville).

At the hearing Tuesday he changed his story and said that Mr. Nelson had not been with him when he burglarized the leases four times since Aug. 29.

Phelps, continuing his guilty plea, was bound over to the next term of Warren County Court. He was committed to the Warren County jail in lieu of $750 bond.

Mr. Nelson, who maintained his innocence from the start, said he had helped Phelps tear down the motor but did not know that it had been stolen.

Some of the equipment stolen by Phelps has been located in district scrapyards.

World population will double from 2.7 to 5.5 billion in the next half century, it is indicated by current growth rates.

Newspaper Wire Service Being Used as Basis For TV Program

New York (AP)—As the idea of television hunt through various American ways of life for material, it was inevitable that some one eventually would hit on a newspaper wire service.

Somewhere has. On Oct. 4 ABC-TV will launch a weekly series of hour-long filmed dramas—at 8 p. m. (EDT)—titled "Wire Service". Then everybody who ever saw a teletype printer can sit back and criticize the technical details.

The sparks for "Wire Service" were struck by the man who ignited "I Love Lucy" and a dozen other popular TV programs. His name is Don Sharpe.

Three stars—George Brent, Dane Clark and Mercedes Mc-

Cambridge—will rotate on the series as wire service feature reporters who go to distant places and become involved in strange situations as they seek the news behind the news.

Producing 39 hour-length films is almost the equivalent of the annual production of a major Hollywood studio, and a majority of the shows will be shot on location in such places as Paris, London, Munich, Rome, Mexico.

The opening show, titled "Blood Rock Mine," was shot on location in the Mojave Desert in 124 degree temperature. It's a story of greed and the relationship of people who believe they are on the verge of great wealth in a possible uranium strike.

Building Permits For $80,157,212 Are Issued During July

Estimated construction costs of building for which permits were issued in Pennsylvania during July 1956, totaled $80,157,212, a decline of 6.2 per cent from the dollar volume of $85,499,188 recorded for June, Secretary of Labor and Industry John R. Torquato announced today. The number of construction projects approved dropped 10.3 per cent, from 10,259 in June to 9,207 in July. Compared with July 1955 estimated expenditures of $71,896,400 for 9,721 separate operations, the dollar volume showed a gain of 11.4 per cent, while the number of permits granted was lower by 5.3 per cent. Yearly comparisons also indicate a 32.3 per cent drop in outlays for residential building, while non-residential building costs jumped 129.4 per cent.

In Warren, the chart shows $109,750 expended for buildings other than dwellings, which themselves cost $54,500. Other buildings in the area shows $2,800 asked for in Youngsville building permits for buildings other than dwellings used for housekeeping.

The total of 2,447 new dwelling units provided this month was 855 less than in June and 1,668 fewer than in July 1955. Permits were granted for 2,413 residential buildings to cost $29,183,692, of which 2,368 were one-family houses. The estimated cost figure was 24.3 per cent under the $38,362,592 volume recorded in June and the number of projects was 23.9 per cent below last month's total of 3,171. In July 1955, permits were issued for 3,548 buildings estimated at $43,116,135.

Non-Residential Building—New commercial, industrial and public building projects started in July called for an investment of $40,839,005, which was 9.2 per cent over the previous record high valuation of $37,386,310 set in June, although the 935 operations approved were 9.7 per cent less than June's total of 1,036. Last July, 985 projects which cost $17,893,138 were authorized. Outlays for public utilities, schools and institu-

Conference Play Takes Over Penn'a Scholastic Football Spotlight During Weekend

Harrisburg (P) — Conference play takes over the Pennsylvania scholastic football spotlight this weekend with a host of important games on tape.

Two defending conference champs, co-champion Williamsport of the Central Penn. and Coal Twp. of the Eastern Conference, tangle in the top non-league game of the weekend. Williamsport's one-point victory last year was Coal's only 1955 defeat.

Other top non-league encounters feature Altoona, a strong WPIAL AA entry with two straight wins, against Westinghouse, defending Pittsburgh city champion; Sect. II leader Corry, winner of two AA league games, against Pittsburgh South Hills.

WPIAL-Defending AA champ Alliquippa opens defense of its title against McKeesport. Johnstown, the early season favorite, is at New Kensington and Greensburg, winner of two league games, takes on Wilkinsburg. At least 6 teams and as many as 10 can be eliminated from title contention in that circuit where a loss or tie automatically drops a team from the race.

Other top WPIAL games feature Butler at Farrell, Monessen at Uniontown, Rochester at Ellwood City, Turtle Creek at Jeannette, Latrobe at Penn. Brownsville at Redstone and Donora at Charleroi.

SECT. II—Defending champion Warren, whose 17-game winning streak was snapped by Corry, takes on Titusville while Franklin is at Meadville.

Action in suburban Philadelphia A features one league game—Haverford at Chester. Ridley Typ. lines up against Atlantic City in preparation for next week's clash with Lower Merion, holder of the longest all-winning record in the state at 23.

In the Ches-Mont League, defending champion Conestoga, with one win already under its belt, meets Coatesville. Downingtown is at Conshohocken and Bridgeport goes to West Chester.

Picking College Grid Winners With A. P. Sports Writer

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

New York (P)—After you have chewed your finger nails to the elbows over that National League race, relax by taking a peek at these guaranteed (") winners of the weekend's college football games:

Notre Dame over Southern Methodist. There's nothing to the rumor that this Notre Dame is so poor that Coach Terry Brennan is unveiling it at night—only the third after-dark game in Notre Dame's long history. Any team with Paul Hornung at quarterback can't be that bad.

Georgia Tech over Kentucky. Texas Christian over Kansas. Baylor over California. Maryland over Syracuse. Missouri over Oregon State. Skipping over the others in a hurry:

FRIDAY NIGHT—
UCLA over Utah.

SATURDAY—

Hustling Rockets Are Preparing For Game With Dragons

Titusville Herald: Titusville High's speedy Rockets will show before the home folks for the second time this season when Coach Lee Mowrey leads his small but hustling charges against fast-stepping Warren at Carter Field Friday night.

The Dragons, who saw their 17-game win streak snapped two weeks ago when Corry edged by them 7-6, rebounded last Friday to dump Franklin 13-0 and will come here favored to add Titusville to their newly started string.

This one will be of top interest locally, but elsewhere there are several good battles on tap including a Section 2 clash between Meadville and Franklin at Franklin. In other games featuring future Rocket foes Erie East is at Harborcreek, Kane goes to Emporium and Greenville takes on a backyard toughie at Sharpville. Unbeaten Corry will be shooting for its third straight 1956 win when the Beavers entertain Johnsbury on the new Corry High field.

The slate:
Friday
Warren at Titusville
Johnsbury at Corry
Meadville at Franklin
Oil City at Grove City
Erie East at Harborcreek
Erie Tech at Millcreek

Don Newcombe's Pitching and Hitting Parley Beats the Cards

By ED WILKS
There's Maglie and Labine and Bessent. And Furillo and Gilliam and Robinson. But when it's time to rehash Brooklyn's drive for the 1956 pennant—win or lose—the talk will have to be about Don Newcombe.

The 30-year-old right-hander, the "Tucky" 20-game winner of 1955 and the "choke up" of last year's World Series, nailed his pitching-hitting parley that beat St. Louis 17-2 and hoisted the Dodgers into a half-game lead in the National League race.

Newk, only the fifth 25-game winner in the NL in the last 20 years, walloped a pair of home runs and gave just seven hits before calling it a day after seven innings as the Brooks bounced back to pad what had been a one-percentage-point edge over Milwaukee.

The second-place Braves couldn't do a thing about it. Rain thwarted their attempt to replay a rain-caused 1-1 Aug. 30 tie with the Pirates.

Third-place Cincinnati stayed alive, sweeping Philadelphia 6-3 and 6-0 in a two-night double-header to come within four games of the lead.

New York took two from Chicago 7-2 and 5-2 in the only other NL action.

With New York's pennant-winning Yankees idle in the American League, second-place Cleveland defeated Washington 6-0 as Bob Lemon won his 20th in a game stopped in the seventh inning by rain. Detroit defeated Baltimore 9-1 as young Frank Lary won his 10th, and Kansas City whacked Boston 8-1.

Newcombe's first and second homers of the season drove in three runs for a 5-1 lead before the Brooks made it a rout with eight runs in the fifth.

The Dodgers had 17 hits in running up their biggest one-game run total of the season and were helped out by eight unearned runs. They got seven "free" runs in the fifth, their biggest inning of the season. Randy Jackson drove in four runs with two doubles and Duke Snider drove in three with four hits.

Wally Post homered with a man on in a four-run first inning for the Redlegs, who broke a four-game losing streak against Jack Meyer. Johnny Klippstein won it. Tom Acker then shut out the Phils on three singles in the nightcap. George Crowe hit a two-run homer in the nightcap to beat Harvey Haddix.

Lemon, a 35-year-old right-hander, gave five hits in winning 20 for the seventh time, a feat that put him with Walter Johnson, Lefty Grove and Eddie Plank in AL annals. Vic Wertz hit his 51st home run to get the Tribe started.

The Tigers, winning 12 of their last 13, got home runs from AL Kaline and Ray Bone.

Harry Simpson hit a grand-slam homer and rookie Jim Pisoni hit a two-run homer in a six-run eighth for the A's that broke up a duel between winner Wally Burdette and Dave Sisler. Boston's Ted Williams was 1-for-4, giving him a .355 to .350 lead over Yankee Mickey Mantle for the AL bat title, but leaving him still 28 short of the necessary 400 at bats with eight games to go.

YESTERDAY'S STARS
Pitching—Tom Acker, Redlegs, went the distance for the first time while allowing Phillies only three singles in nightcap as Redlegs swept a two-night double-header from Philadelphia 6-3 and 6-0 stay alive in National League pennant race.

Hitting—Don Newcombe, Dodgers, hit two home runs and a single, driving in three runs, while winning 25th of the season in a 17-2 romp over Cardinals that retained National League lead for Dodgers.

Weather Man Caus Change in Pitching Roles for Haney

By JACK HANED
Pittsburgh (P)—A curve ball thrown by the weatherman may have forced Manager Fred Haney to revise his pitching plans for the Milwaukee Braves and may have given the front running Brooklyn Dodgers a break in the stretch drive for the National League pennant.

Haney said before last night's game with the Pittsburgh Pirates was washed out that he planned to use his big three of Bob Buhl, Warren Spahn and Lew Burdette in that order as starters in the Braves' remaining games.

Now Buhl and Bob Friend, ace of the Pirates staff, must work today instead — on what was to have been an off day for both teams—and that makes them doubtful starters in vital games Sunday.

The Braves leave for home and a three-game series with Chicago after today's game and the Pirates dig in at Forbes Field for an important four-game set with Brooklyn that runs through Monday night. With Spahn ticketed for Friday night and Burdette for Saturday, Buhl would have to work with only two days rest if he pitches Sunday against the Cubs.

Bobby Bragan, Pittsburgh manager, is in the same boat. He had Ronnie Kline, Vern Law and Friend lined up for the Friday, Saturday and Sunday games with Brooklyn and possibly Kline again Monday. Now Friend will probably be shoved back to Monday with second flighters Red Munger or Dick Hall in the Sunday spot.

Meanwhile, Brooklyn with an off day today might be able to squeeze three more starts out of both Sal Maglie and Don Newcombe.

Lane's Win Over Lightburn Readies Him for Title Shot

Miami, Fla. (P)—Kenny Lane's easy victory over Ludwig Lightburn last night in Miami's new Biscayne Arena has convinced the Muskegon, Mich., youth that he's more than ready for a shot at the lightweight boxing title.

Lane, the sixth-ranking contender in the division, said Lightburn "wasn't too tough. The way I handled him ought to entitle me to a crack at the championship." Lightburn is the No. 9 lightweight.

Switching back and forth from a southpaw lead to a straightaway stance, Lane kept Lightburn in such a constant state of confusion that the Negro from British Honduras never was able to launch a sustained attack.

In the late rounds, with his handlers begging him to move in and punch, Lightburn did his best but Lane stopped each of his flurries with sharp right and left blows.

The decision was unanimous for the 24-year-old Lane. Judge Sam Margolis gave him a 100-92 margin. Judge Jerry Sherrard called it 98-92 and Referee Peety Sarron 99-90. The Associated Press gave it to Lane 100-92.

It was Lane's 44th victory in 49 fights and Lightburn's eighth defeat in 49 bouts.

Lightburn slipped to the canvas twice while under heavy attack by Lane but there were no official knockdowns.

Lane weighed 137, Lightburn, 138½.
